From the Desk of the Principal-in-charge

Since Darwin explained the reasons 150 years ago, we know that it is not the strongest or the largest that survive but it is those best prepared to cope with the change. I take the opportunity to address as the Principal-in-charge of Michael Madhusudan Dutta College, Sabroom. Let me congratulate you on your Higher Secondary school achievements and I know that you as a body represent the best and the brightest students from Sabroom in particular, if not from the entire South Tripura. I also wish to congratulate your parents and guardians for the nurture and support they have provided to you to this time. They must be justifiably proud to have their sons and daughters here with us, and will continue to support and encourage them I their new journey, while giving them some space to develop their own identities.

Through this Prospectus, I symbolize the educational nature of this College and wish you that you will become a part of this unique institution, much larger than this Campus, one which extends its reach from the state to the rest of the country. Do take advantage of this vibrant regionalism. It will serve you very well in the future as it has been serving hundreds of students for the last 24 years. Also, teachers and staff of this College are very grateful for our Government's continuing support to our college.

PRELUDE

Michael Madhusudan Dutta College is at South Tripura District, approximately 130 kilometers away from the capital of the state. Bus, jeep, etc. various types of conveyance are available to cover this enjoyable journey of around 3.5 hrs. The southern edge of Tripura, Sabroom, was once covered with dense forest and almost a free zone for wild animals like, deer, bear, tiger and elephant. However, the communication network and planned forestry has converted the Sub-Division into a natural garden. Shilachari, Ghorakappa, Manubankul, Baishnabpur, Bishnupur, Betaga, Herbatoli, Chhotakhil or Manughat wherever one goes, he will be charmed with the picturesque natural scenery of so-called inaccessible, remote wild areas. Traditionally Sabroom can truly boast of the blessings it enjoys for racial and communal co-operation, harmony and peaceful co-existence. Today the Sub-Division thrives with farm & fields, flora & fauna, academies & automobiles. Obviously, it is the outcome of action & reaction between matter & mind, soil & soul.

Michael Madhusudan Dutta College, the only institution of higher education in the Sub-Division was established on 24th September, 1987. The location of the College is at a beautiful place along the National Highway No. 8 with a vast plot of 50.69 acres. The land was arranged under the auspicious endeavor of the Sabroom Nagar Panchayat. The seedbed of this institution was Sabroom Boys H.S. School. Initially, the college was known as Sabroom Government Degree College but on 08.04.2002, the State Government named it after the Bengali legendary poet Michael Madhusudan Dutta (25.01.1824 – 29.06.1873). The College was shifted to the new building on 8th April, 2002.
